

BELUGA GOLD LINE

Grain Vodka | Jeroboam 3L

Beluga Gold Line is a grain vodka bottled at 40% volume. Each bottle carries an individual number and a wax seal, with an accompanying hammer for opening it. This Jeroboam is the large-format presentation of the expression. PRODUCTION: Organic winter-wheat spirit is combined with spring water and filtered. A 90-day rest precedes bottling, completing the production sequence for this release. SUGGESTIONS: Serve chilled, neat or over ice, with caviar as the producer's suggested pairing. For a classic Martini, stir six parts vodka with one part La Quintinye Vermouth Royal Dry over ice, then strain into a chilled glass. A lemon twist provides the garnish; express it over the drink before placing it on the rim.

BELUGA Noblewood Group coordinates Beluga production across two European sites. Its Latvian distillery supplies grain spirit, while finishing and bottling take place in Montenegro, where the group is headquartered. This production geography distinguishes current Gold Line from the brand's earlier Russian history. The wider portfolio includes Noble, Transatlantic Racing and Allure, with each expression following its own production specification.
