The Grallet-Dupic Whisky Distillery The Grallet-Dupic Distillery was founded in 1860 by Hubert Grallet in Rozelieures, a small town of only 160 inhabitants. Inspired by the Lorraine region’s nature and ideal conditions for the production of fine whisky. The distillery uses locally grown barley for their peaty malts, their whiskeys are double distilled in Charentais pot stills and aged in a variety of casks from different parts of the world.
